Prelude O Jesus, King Most Wonderful Dale Wood

Welcome and Life of the Church

✞Invitation to Worship

One: We gather this day in honor of the saints past, present, and future.
All: We come this day to commit ourselves into living into this our heritage.
One: We gather to remind ourselves that we are a church united across the generations.
All: As we are a part of the promises of God, we come to teach our children that they, too, are included in this glorious inheritance.
One: We give thanks that so many saints have taught us about the faith.
All: The gentle strength of grandmothers, the loyalty of friends, the sacrifice of parents, the sacrifice of so many that lived the faith.
One: And they taught us to read the scriptures and live by its holy words.
All: …The supreme love of Jesus, the blessing of his Spirit, the sharing of his suffering, the glory of his resurrection shown forth in the lives of his disciples. Those saints have made a difference in our lives and will continue to do so in the lives of our children. Therefore, surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, we worship God with joy!

✞Hymn 326 For All the Saints SINE NOMINE

✞Time of Confession and Assurance of God's Grace

All: Beloved God, you who were known to our mothers and fathers, and to our spiritual forebears, have mercy on us. We do not always love as you would have us love. We do not always do as you would have us do. In our stubbornness, we turn from you when we should turn toward you.

Hold us, dear Lord. Comfort us when we mourn the passing of friends and family, and help us to know that they are rejoicing in your presence. We praise you for the grace you shower on us, constantly forgiving our errors, especially the ones that we don't share with any but you. Hear now the silent fears and worries of our hearts.

(Moment for silent prayers of personal confession)

Scripture Reading Revelation 7: 9 -17 New Testament, pg. 249

ONE: This the word of God for the people of God.
ALL: Thanks be to God

Anthem The souls of the righteous Geraint Lewis

Message Sparrowhawks and the Communion of Saints David Ezekiel

The Sacrament of Holy Communion

One: When we gather at the table, we enter the realm of God's time in our remembering where past, present, and future are one.
All: We remember the past and are hosted by all those saints who came before us. We remember the present through Christ's call to spread the banquet of love to all. We remember the future in the promise of Jesus to be with us always.
One: And so it is that this morning, we remember with love those who set a banquet of love for us. We give thanks for their hospitality, the tables they set for us and the gifts they gave to us, and we set this heavenly banquet at which we give glory to God with them today.
All: It is through their witness that we have tasted, and we have seen the goodness of God. We confess that at times we forget that we, too, will be the "ancestors" of those to come.

Participation with all the Saints

One: The Lord be with you in your joy and your sorrow.

All: And also with you.
One: Though sometimes they be heavy, lift up your hearts to God.
All: We lift them up to the Lord.
One: Let us give thanks to God, for God is always present.
All: It is right to give our thanks and praise!
One: It is right, and a good and joyful thing, always and everywhere to give thanks to you, almighty God, creator of heaven and earth,
God of Abraham and Sarah,
God of Miriam and Moses,
God of Mary and Joseph,
and the God of those whom we love:

[We read each name aloud of those who have died in this past year and toll the bell. As we name each person, we light a candle to honor their memory.]

One: Their light has shined in our life; so, now, they shine with the radiance of being in the presence of Christ, the light of the world.

One: It is right, and a good and joyful thing, always and everywhere to give thanks to you, almighty God, the God of the living. You are the God of each one of us,
All: And my Lord and my God,
One: And the God of the disciples: Peter, James, Paul, and countless others. And you are the God of new disciples in our lives:

[We read each name aloud of those who have been baptized in this past year and ring the bell. As we name each person, we light a candle in prayer for their future.]

One: And so, with your people on earth and all the company of heaven, we praise your name and join their unending hymn:

All: Holy, holy, holy Lord, God of power and might, heaven and earth are full of your glory. Hosanna in the highest! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Hosanna in the highest!

Holy Communion

One: Holy are you and blessed is your Son Jesus Christ who came and offered the world a new way to live in love with one another. He ate with those others considered unworthy, he challenged the rich to share their banquets, he called ordinary people to extraordinary acts of mercy. By his life, death, and resurrection the church was birthed as his living Body in the world. And every time this Body gathers at tables, whether it is this one here at church or the ones in our homes, Jesus is present just as he was that last time with his disciples.

We remember that on the night before meeting with death Jesus took bread, gave thanks to you, broke the bread, gave it to the disciples, and said:

All: "Take, eat; this is my body which is given for you. Do this in remembrance of me."

One: And after the supper was over Jesus took the cup, gave thanks to you, gave it to the disciples, and said:

All: This is blood poured out for you. "Drink from this, all of you; this is my blood of the new covenant, poured out for you and for many for the forgiveness of sins. Do this, as often as you drink it, in remembrance of me."

One: And so, in remembrance of these your mighty acts in Jesus Christ, we offer ourselves in praise and thanksgiving, we offer ourselves in service and love, laying a banquet for all because of this mystery of faith:

All: Christ has died; Christ is risen; Christ will come again.

One: Pour out your Holy Spirit upon this family at this table, and all the tables we represent. Make this bread and cup extend beyond these walls so that they may become grace broken and poured out for the world through us. In our remembering, we look forward to the heavenly banquet, where all have a seat – past, present, and future saints alike. In anticipation of that day, we pray together the prayer of Jesus…

All: Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name. Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.

[When passing the communion elements, offer the bread to your neighbor by saying, "The bread of life." When offering the cup, say, "The cup of salvation." Please hold the element and we will partake together.]

The Multitude from Every Nation

9 After this I looked, and there was a great multitude that no one could count, from every nation, from all tribes and peoples and languages, standing before the throne and before the Lamb, robed in white, with palm branches in their hands. 10 They cried out in a loud voice, saying,

"Salvation belongs to our God who is seated on the throne and to the Lamb!"

11 And all the angels stood around the throne and around the elders and the four living creatures, and they fell on their faces before the throne and worshiped God, 12 singing,

"Amen! Blessing and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honor and power and might be to our God forever and ever! Amen."

13 Then one of the elders addressed me, saying, "Who are these, robed in white, and where have they come from?" 14 I said to him, "Sir, you are the one who knows." Then he said to me, "These are they who have come out of the great ordeal; they have washed their robes and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 For this reason they are before the throne of God
and worship him day and night within his temple, and the one who is seated on the throne will shelter them.
16 They will hunger no more and thirst no more;
the sun will not strike them,
nor any scorching heat,
17 for the Lamb at the center of the throne will be their shepherd,
and he will guide them to springs of the water of life,
and God will wipe away every tear from their eyes."

326 For All the Saints

The broad and sweeping tune with which this hymn is so closely identified was created to be sung during a reverent but dramatic procession at the beginning of an All Saints' Day service, an enacted representation of the enduring "fellowship divine" celebrated by this text.

TEXT: William Walsham How, 1864
MUSIC: Ralph Vaughan Williams, 1906

Harmony, stanza 3

435 There's a Wideness in God's Mercy

These stanzas, excerpted from quite a few more, offer a reminder that the model for our dealings with others should be God's generosity rather than limited human tolerance. The text is effectively set to a broad and sturdy Dutch folk melody, probably from the 17th century.

TEXT: Frederick William Faber, 1854, alt.
MUSIC: Dutch melody; arr. Julius Röntgen, c. 1906
